Start of Block: Introduction

intro Researchers have been hired to consult with North Carolina Work First, that state's welfare agency. On the next page, you will find two applicants for state assistance. These forms have been redacted to hide information that may identify individual applicants. Each applicant has a state-assessed level of need of $900 per month. Your task is to allocate $1,500 between the two applicants. You can allocate any amount between $0 and $900 to each applicant. Any remaining funds will be used to offset the state's budget deficit.

Thank you for completing this survey!

You have been part of a randomized survey experiment. The purpose of this survey is to determine whether Americans prefer to allocate more welfare to whites than blacks, even controlling for the work ethics of the applicants.

The applications you viewed were not real applications. The applications were created by the researchers for the purpose of this survey experiment. We varied the names of the applicants, and in some cases, the applicants' worker quality assessment ratings. The researchers were not hired to consult with North Carolina Work First. No welfare funds were allocated as part of this survey experiment.

Thank you for your participation. If you have any questions about the research, you can contact the researchers at yalesurveyresearch@gmail.com. If you have any questions about your rights as a research participant or concerns about the conduct of this study, you may contact the Yale University Human Subjects Committee at human.subjects@yale.edu.
